REMINISCENCES OF OUR PIONEER DAYS

Gleanings From the Records Left By Men Who Laid the Foundation of Our County.

On the 11th of May, 1887, Bonita Parlor, No. 10, Native Daughters of the Golden West, was instituted in this city with elaborate ceremonies. The ceremonies of institution were conducted by Miss M. Greenhalgh, a member of Ursula Parlor of Jackson, Amadore county, the meeting for the purpose being held in the Wahl building. After the formal organization of the parlor, which of course was perfected at a secret session, the doors of the lodge room were thrown open and some 200 invited guests were admitted to witness the ceremonies attending the installation of the first officers of the parlor. The hall had been handsomely decorated for the occasion, the central floor piece being a handsome shield of red and white roses and yellow marigolds. This was the artistic work of Jerome Turner, and was the fraternal offering of Redwood Parlor, Native Sons to their sister fraternity. The officers were installed by Miss Greenhalgh, assisted by Mrs. L. J Fontenrose of the same parlor, acting as grand marshal, and were as follows: Ellen Lloyd, past president; Essie McEvoy, president; Nellie E. Smith, first vice president; Blanche Bean, second vice president; Carrie Johnson, third vice president; Alice Leahy, recording secretary; Mary Dugan, financial secretary; Mary Hanley, treasurer; Addie Underhill, mashal; Mary Leathers, inside sentinel; Emma Hall, outside sentinel; Sophie Offermann, Mary Bement and Eliza Greer, trustees. After the installation ceremonies an elaborate program of music was presented by members of the new parlor, concluded with an address by Miss Mary Leathers. The charter roll of the new organization contained a total of 39 names.

Early on the morning of Sunday, June 5, 1887, Redwood City was the scene of another disastrous fire, one which besides causing a severe property loss to a young man just fairly launched on life's career. Shortly before daylight, Mrs. Dillon was awakened from her slumbers by the noise caused by animals struggling to free themselves from peril, and aroused her son William, he hastened outside to discover the stable of P. H. McEvoy, situated near their home, in flames. After arousing Mr. McEvoy, Dillon rushed to the burning stable but was unable for some time to gain an entrance, finding the doors locked and having no means of breaking them open. Neighbors finally succeeded in removing one or two of the wagons, but all of the horses in the barn some nine in number, were burned to death. After the fire had burned itself out a search among the ruins was made, resulting in the discovery of the charred remains of Sam Majors, a young man who for months had been in the employ of Mr. McEvoy as a hostler and teamster. The origin of the fire was an inexplicable mystery. Young Majors, who was the only man known to have been about the place during the evening was not in the habi of smoking and could not have carelessly caused the fire in this manner. In fact the only possible explanation seemed to be in the fact that a small shed adjoining the stable had been used as a blacksmith shop, and there had been a fire in this place during the forenoon Saturday. While this fire had not been used later than noon, it was finally supposed that it might have smouldered during the night and communicated to the adjoining wall. The loss to Mr. McEvoy was estimated at nearly $5000 in actual property, besides the loss of time while securing a new outfit of farming implements, and he had the acting sympathy of his neighbors in his loss.

CLAIMS FREITAS SOLD SHORT-WEIGHT BUTTER.

Colonel D. H. Bryant of San Jose, who was deposed as State Dairy Inspector two weeks ago after a stormy session with the State Dairy Bureau, which he had challenged to discharge him, has forwarded to Governor Johnson a deposition charging M. T. Freitas, chairman of the State Dairy Bureau, with selling short-weight butter to T. J. Brady and other San Mateo merchants.

An affidavit from Brady, telling how he bought short-weight butter from the Sherry-Freitas Company of San Francisco, is included in the documents forwarded to the governor. F. W. Andreason, secretary of the board, is charged with having prevented Bryant from prosecuting the Freitas firm.

EXCITING BASKET BALL; HIGH SCHOOL IS WINNER.

Tuesday night, lovers of basket ball witnessed one of the exciting games of the season when The Seminols, a fast team from San Francisco, met the local boys in a practice game at the gymnasium. The first impression created was that Redwood had little show against the big fellows of the Seminols. However, they went at it, and from the start, it appeared evident that it was going to be pretty close. The first half was characterized by considerable rough play and this was not checked by the visiting team's referee who had been accustomed to such work among the city teams, but the second half was a little more according to rules. The score of 9 to 6 in favor of Redwood at the end of the first half, was considerably augmented at the close of the game the final score being 22 to 14 in favor of Redwood. The line up for the Redwood team was; Derry (Menlo Park) and Thompson, forwards; Heydenfeldt, center; Winter and Lamb, guards. With the interest in basket ball in Redwood City, there is no reason why we may not have two or three pretty good teams, and plans are being made to have a first class city team.

Look Out for Tagged Crabs.

The California Fish and Game Commission has notified local fishermen of an experiment that the Commission is trying. They have liberated in San Francisco bay a large number of edible crabs on which they have attached to the shell a metal tag. They have notified the fishermen that when one with a tag is caught to return it to the office of the California Fish and Game Commission in the Balboa building at Second and Market streets, San Francisco, stating just where the crab was caught and the depth of water.

Nathhorst Buys Real Estate.

Charles Nathhorst, proprietor of the Bell Theatre, has purchased eighty acres of land at Portola from M. S. Loucks of Mountain View, being a portion of the Martinez rancho. A. W. Ploda, the city engineer, is subdividing the property into small acreage tracts and it will be offered for sale as such. The tract is located in the lower end of the Portola valley at the junction of the Portola and Menlo Park roads.

GOOD ROADS AND RAILROAD RATES

DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION IS GIVING MUCH CONSIDERATION TO BOTH SUBJECTS.

Supervisors Will Take Action Next Monday to Have Roads Surveyed and Estimates Made.

SAN MATEO, Nov. 1—The whys and wherefores of good roads have been coursing through the minds of the boosters during the past week, especially the latter, for the Development Association is on the eve of the commencement of its real struggle with the Southern Pacific Company.

With the railroad it will be a case of down to brass tacks very shortly. The tacks are all pointed and directed and the first blow that will drive them home in the effort of the boosters to have the unjust discrimination of railroad rates lowered will come when Attorney Seth Mann files the complaint of the Development Association with the Railroad Commission which he expects to do very shortly.

The members of the local tri-county committee on the state highway, Messrs. W. J. Martin, G. J. McGregor and H. C Tuchsen are urging that immediate action be taken in preparing for the luncheon at which the State Highway Commission, as well as the Board of Supervisors from San Francisco, Santa Clara and San Mateo counties are to be guests. Arrangements for this luncheon have been left in the hands of a committee composed of L. P. Lowe and Judge Curtis H. Lindley of San Francisco, George A. Merrill of Redwood City and W. S. Clayton, the San Jose banker. The basic idea of the proposed luncheon is to show to the state commission that the people of San Francisco, San Mateo and Santa Clara counties are fully united as to where they want this highway to run, and especially to see to it that the main route is down the Peninsula rather than on the other side of the bay where Alameda county is making such strenuous efforts to have it located.

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors next Monday, the county fathers will instruct Surveyor Neuman to prepare the necessary data looking to the establishment of a system of roads which will serve the commercial purposes of the county in a decent manner. It will take many weeks to secure this information which is necessary before any positive steps toward a bond issue can be taken. Information received by the boosters is to that effect that this week will see a rush of articles from the school children throughout the county who are determined to win one of the ten-dollar prizes offered by the Association for the best story of a thousand words or less on the advantages that would accrue to the county from a system of good roads. This contest closes on November 14.

D. G. Doubleday of Millbrae was appointed at Tuesday's meeting as a member of the board of governors. Mr. Doubleday takes the place left vacant by the resignation of F. H. Green of Millbrae.

Adams Pays Friendly Visit

For attempting to enter the house of his divorced wife Sunday August Adams, a laborer, was on Monday sentenced to serve ten days in the county jail by Justice of the Peace H. W. Lampkin, Disturbing the peace was the charge. Mrs. Eva Adams, the defendant's former spouse, swore to the complaint. Adams' defense was that he desired to pay her a friendly visit. Adams had deserted his wife and children several months ago since which time they have been assisted by the public.

Court is Merciful to Smith.

Henry Smith, who had been held to appear before the Superior Court for stealing a horse at San Bruno and trying to dispose of it in San Francisco, had a hearing before Judge Buck Thursday. Previous good conduct was shown, and Judge Buck allowed him to go on probation, with the proviso that he immediately leave the State. He was placed in charge of a probation officer who saw that his departure was not delayed.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER

D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

BE HAPPY

You will if you boost

Join the Developement Ass'n.

Governor Johnson should ponder seriously before heeding the importunities of a coterie of San Francisco speculators to have included in his call for a special session of the Legislature a plan to allow that city to boost its population figure by grabbing all the outside territory it can conveniently reach. Just a little investigation will undoubtedly demonstrate that there is small desire for such action outside of that city. Certainly there is no general sentiment in favor of the grab in San Mateo county at this time.

A SPLENDID EXAMPLE.

Residents of several other sections of the city would do well to imitate the example set by the property owners in District 17. Instead of standing in the way of public improvement, these people are preparing to do what they reasonably can to add to its attractiveness, and they are going about the task in a businesslike manner. Within a few months they will be able to enjoy the satisfaction and comfort of splendid streets, and that at a minimum cost. Many other sections of the town are sadly in need of street improvements, and there is no reason why they should not take voluntary action to secure for themselves the benefits of a little enterprise.

There is no possible argument against the doing of work of this character by private enterprise, and many reasons why it should be so done. It is unquestioned that public work of this character costs materially more than the price for which it can be secured by the private individual. The necessity of legal requirements cause delays and add expenses which of necessity must be paid by the owner of the property. By this method of voluntary action it is also possible to so plan the improvement as to lessen the cost while not detracting from either durability or appearance.

But that this be done three must be united action. There must be entire harmony among the people of each scetion, and a willingness to combine for the general good. These sections need not be large, in fact it were better if comparatively small sections of the city were included in each combination. By this method it would be much easier to reach satisfactory conclusions as to the character of work and its extent.

Some public spirited citizen in each section of the city should take the lead in this matter and urge action upon his neighbors. For every movement there must be a leader, and espcially is it true in a matter of this character. That street improvement is a crying need of the city no one will question. That, when economically done, it is a source of added value to the property adjoining is a proposition long since demonstrated.

AT THEIR BEST

How much better would this world of ours be if men and women thought only of eachother at their best, and to aspire to be worthy the best thoughts of their fellows

We look upon the cold and silent face of a dead friend or acquaintance, and with hearts aglow with tender pathos, we remember only his good qualities. His virtues shine out brightly and beautifully, eclipsing whatever of fault or weakness, or even of vice, there may have been in his character. Why should we wait until the winter of death sets its icy seal on heart and lips before we are ready to think the kindly thought, which after all is as enobling to ourselves as it would be to the one on whom it is bestowed.

The human race is yet in its moral and spiritual infancy. It is slowly but surely struggling up the heights. On every hand are the footsore, and weary, and faltering. Some are borne down with heavy burdens that have been transmitted to them by an ignorant and sinful ancestry. Others seem recklessly squandering the golden hours and opportunities of their lives, and thereby making for themselves beds of thorns for future years.

But if he whom the record informs us "spake not as man spake," could say to the erring one "Neither do I condemn thee; go and sin no more," wherefore should the best of us frail mortals presume to sit in judgment upon our fellows? Can we fathom the mysteries of the erring soul, or weigh the motive that prompted it to action?

The great want of the world today is charity and good will to man. There is something of the best in every life; and this is the plant we should nurture with the tenderest care. Then let us all begin to think of each other "at their best." It is thus that the wilderness of human nature can be made to blossom as the rose.

Suffragists, 65, Register

San Mateo county is out with a claim for the distinction of having the three most remarkable registrations since woman suffrage became law in California. Three women, two of them 65 years old and one 64 years old, all sisters, registered in the county clerk's office yesterday. They are Mrs. Louise Rice, Mrs. Sarah N. Wentworth and Mrs. Martha Ellen Durham.

An Entertaining Program.

The flower show at the new club house in Dingee Park, closed last Saturday night and was a great success, socially and financially. Saturday afternoom, being children's day, the following program was rendered: song Frankie McAuliffe; résitation, Inez Jamieson; folk dance, by the pupils of the 5th grade; Chorus, by the puplis of the 5th and 6th grades.

Special mention must be made of little Inez Jamieson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Jamieson. The little four year old Miss, who is a most winsome child, first recited "Mary's Little Lamb" and her bow and gestures would do credit to any Chesterfieldian. For and encore, she gave "My Country". While reciting, she concealed a small American flag behind her, and at the the words "Let freedom ring" waved the Stars and Stripes overhead and to see her salute the flag at the conclusion would teach patriotism to many an older person.

To our Friends and Patrons:

In justice to our customers, as well as our selves, we have decided to change our name from the McKibben-Beal Company to the Palo Alto Furniture Company. As neither Mr. Beal nor Mr. McKibben has any interest in the business the title is misleading. This we wish to rectify by the above change.

We sincerely hope that the present management is entirely satisfactory to all of our customers. We shall endeavor with your help, to make the Palo Alto Furniture Company the most talked-of furniture house on the coast in the matter of low prices and courteous treatment. If you find we are right, tell your friends about us and we will have them for our friends also.

We thank you for past patronage, which we wish may continue.

Yours respectfully,

The blinds are drawn, a lock is on the front door and the winds murmur mournfully in and about the notorious resort at Fair Oaks where revelry once held high carnival. Gettings, Jr., who for a number of years held a prominent position in the freight claim department of the Southern Pacific Company, was last week appointed contracting freight agent with headquarters in San Francisco. Father Lyons to Leave Menlo.

The news of the removal of Father Lyons to San Francisco, where he will have a wider field to labor in ithe cause of religion, was received here last week with much regret among his parishoners to whom he has endeared himself. He has been appointed pastor of St. John's parish and takes the place of Father Brady who died last week. While it is a deserved promotion yet the people of Menlo Park are loath to see him go. He assumes his new duties on the fifteenth of the month. Father Lyons has been in charge of the catholic church here for the past eight years and during that time has accomplished much good by his earnest zeal and untiring efforts. He has always been on the side of decency and has consistently worked for the betterment of the community alligning himself with the best element for the upbuilding of the town and always fighting that which was a detriment and a hindrance to the progress of the village. Lower Court Sustained.

The district court of appeals Monday affirmed the judgment of the lower court in the S. L. Jones battle. Thedecision handed down gives Mrs. Eugenia Jones, widow of Everett Jones, the share she claimed.

Jones, an importer, died about 20 years ago, leaving an estate worth $500,000 to his son, Everett D. on condition that in the event of Everett's death before that of his wife she should be given $300 a month and half of the income from the estate, "while she remained his widow." Two years after the senior Jones' death the son and his wife were divorced. Everett later married his nurse while critically ill, and died four hours after the ceremony was performed, in the spring of 1907.

Following her divorced husband's death, Mrs. Eugenia Jones sued, claiming that she was the widow and, under the terms of the will, entitled to her share of the property, notwithstanding Jones' subsequent marriage. Her claims were contested by her daughter, Mrs. Elsie Denroche. Superior Judge Graham of San Francisco rendered a decision favorable to Mrs. Jones, declaring that she was the widow of Everett D. Jones within the meaning of the will. Judge Graham defined a widow as "a married woman who had lost her husband, either by death or judicial decree." Mrs. Denroche then appealed.

Everett D. Jones formerly owned the J. A. Folger place at Woodside and spent a fortune in improving it. The Jones lived very happily there for a number of years.

Carl Stalter, who was the inside clerk, is out of employment by the change. Frank Wentworth, the outside man, will remain with the new management for a few days to acquaint him with the routine business. Mr. Chamberlain is highly commended by the president of the Wells-Fargo Company for his honesty and integrity.

There was nothing startling in the rest of the charge, it being the same that is usually given the Grand Jury.

After the Grand Jury was sworn they immediately elected Bart Sheehan of San Mateo secretary and decided upon R. V. Fealy as exert to examine the books of the various officers of the county. Mr. Fealy is the gentleman who served as expert for the last grand jury. He gave splendid satisfaction and was highly recommended to the present inquisitorial body.

The jury visited the jail and inspected the county poor farm on Tuesday and the hog ranches of Colma on Wednesday.

Still Urging Better Roads.

In order to lay the wishes of the peninsula clearly before the members of the Highway commission on the State road question a committee has been appointed to arrange for a luncheon at which the Highway Commission and the Boards of Supervisors from San Francisco, Santa Clara and San Mateo counties will be guests. The luncheon committee is composed of L. P. Lowe, the well known automobilist and Judge Curtis H. Linrley of San Francisco, W. S. Clayton, the San Jose banker and Mayor George A. Merrill of Redwood City. It is hoped that as a result of the proposed luncheon the Highway Commission will gain the positive unswerving belief that the main coast highway provided for in the State issue should be located down the peninsula between San Francisco and San Jose, rather than through Alameda county, the route for which the trans-bay boosters are working so strenuously. G. J. McGregor, W. J. Martin and H. C. Tuchsen, members of the local tricounty committee are urging that this luncheon be held at the earliest possible moment.

When the Board of Supervisors meet next Monday, County Surveyor Neuman will be instructed to proceed with securing the necessary data and make needed surveys upon which the proposed bond issue for improving and reconstructing the roads of the county will be based. Word has been received from the boosters that a rush of articles from the school children of the county who are taking part in the boosters' road contest, will come at the end of this week. The interest in the contest seems to be especially keen at Redwood City, County Superintendent of Schools Cloud being authority for the statement that the Redwood school children will be strongly to the front before the contest closes on November 14th. At Tuesday's meeting D. G. Doubleday of Millbrae was appointed as a member of the Board of Governors to take the place left vacant by the resignation of F. H. Green.

Practically all of the poles required in the construction of the line for the Halfmoon Bay Light and Power Company have been received. The last shipment was a car load for Moss Beach and vicinity.

NEWS GATHERED FROM THE COUNTY

Interesting Notes Picked Up By Hustling Reporters in the Country Districts.

With the term of one long since expired and the other soon to end, the battle over the postmasterships of Burlingame and San Mateo waxes warm and Congressman Hayes finds himself in something of a dilemma. With the end of his term yet some months off, Postmaster Geo. W. Gates of Burlingame is making strenuous efforts to secure the recommendation of his congressman for another term. In this effort he is opposed by Dr. Ira H. Chapman, P. E. Lamb, J. C. Beard, Wm. Rasor and W. J. Mathews, each of whom has a wistful eye on the job. In San Mateo the contest is between Postmaster Thomas Byrnes, who is still holding onto the job although his official term expired some months ago, and J. J. Burke. So far it seems Congressman Hayes has given no intimation of his intention in either case.

Acting at the suggestion of the mass meeting recently held by the electors of the district, the school trustees of San Mateo school district are preparing to again submit to the voters the proposal to issuebonds to the amount of $100,000 for the purpose of providing new school buildings. As voiced at the meeting the sentiments of the people now seem to be almost unanimously in favor of the bonds, this feeling being especially strong in Burlingame, where the facilities are extremely poor.

The work of street improvement is being rapidly pushed forward in South San Francisco. Contractor Lindgren has a gang of men at work laying curbs and sidewalks on the west side of Division street. Peck & Garrett, owners of the Peck's lots tract have surveyors at work preparing that subdivision for the laying of concrete walks and curbs.

A few days ago Henry Palmer of San Bruno found a package of valuable street improvement bonds in a San Mateo electric car. After an inquiry of several days he discovered the owner and returned the lost property.

Mercel Daneri of San Bruno who was operated on for appendicitis two weeks ago, is reported to be rapidly improving.

The San Francisco Gas and Electric Company is investigating Daly City as a field for the extension of its gas mains. Representatives of the company have been making a canvass of the town and have received considerable encouragement.

Last Saturday and Sunday were made official "clean up" days in Daly City. The town trustees declared an official holiday for the purpose and people generally turned out for the work. On Sunday the volunteer fire company turned out as an orgainzation and lent their assistance. The trustees were spurred to the action by the report of several cases of typhoid in the Excelsior Homestead tract and in the vicinity of the dairies north of the Crocker tract.

The Grandview Social Club of Daly City have announced a masquerade ball to be given on the evening of November 18th at Knowle's hall.

The gardeners of San Pedro to the number of sixteen have organized an association for the purpose of handling their produce. Last year they found their business decidedly prosperous, clearing an average of nearly $6000 each, while the prospects for the present year are even better. The principal article of produce is artichokes, peas and Brussels sprouts.

Miss Ellen Kyne of Moss Beach, a teacher in the San Francisco school department, will be one of the sufferers by the recent decision of the courts upholding the rule of the school board that all teachres must reside in the city. Rather than give up her position she has moved to San Francisco to reside.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Shiplar, owners of the Marine View Hotel, have gone for a visit of several months with friends at Kansas City. While they are away the hotel will be entirely renovated and remodeled.

The United High Gravity Oil Company is again pushing the work of developing their wells at Tunitas Glen. The last of the heavy 6¼ inch have been received at the wells and drilling has been resumed in a formation which promises a speedy flow of the highest grade of oil.

SPUR-TRACK WILL BE CONTINUED TO DEEP WATER

Through the filing of a deed last week, executed by the Spring Valley Water Company, the obstruction that has stood in the way of the completion of the spur-track to deep water has been removed and the railroad will be built across the marsh to Deep Water slough, opposite the codfishery. The track is the property of the Redwood City Waterfront Company, the owners of valuable marsh land property adjacent to this city. When it had been constructed to the edge of the marsh, a distance of 6000 feet the Spring Valley right-of-way was reached and objection was made by the company to crossing it.

After a lapse of months an amicable adjustment of the matter has been reached by which the builders of the spur-track are permitted to cross the water company's property and continue their railroad to its proposed terminus. It is stated that work will be resumed as soon as possible.

DECREES QUIET TITLE TO HILLSBOROUGH LAND.

Decrees were filed with County Recorder H. O. Heiner Tuesday quieting title to the Hillsborough lands of Henry T. Scott, George A. Pope, Samuel Knight, Joseph Knight, Joseph D. Grant, Caro Crockett Scott, Alice S. Coleman and Inez Ray Smith. The properties in question were conveyed to their present owners under an old trust deed given by the Sharons to two trustees. In a recent decision of the Supreme Court it was held that trust deeds can not be made for the purpose of conveying title. It therefore became necessary for many of the people owning homes in Hillsborough to bring suit to quiet title.

Rain Was Not Harmful.

The fruit growers of the valley did not suffer much damage from the shower of last Thursday, and not many grapes were hurt except some of the late crops found far back in the mountains. According to the weather prophets the shower was a fine thing, as it will start the grass before November 15. If the grass starts by that time it will be vigorous enough to stand the winter, but if it does not start until later in the month the frost will probably get it and the stockmen will be without feed during the winter.

John Hewitt, teamster at the S. H. Frank tannery plant, was robbed Sunday of a suit of clothes and $40 in cash by a man he had befrended. Hewitt permitted a man, who had come to the tannery, to pile bark to occupy his room in the barn with him and the fellow levanted with cash and clothes.
